

Companies Act 2006 Seminar

The Companies Act 2006 is the widest reaching review of company law for over 20 years and is the longest Act to ever pass through Parliament. It will fundamentally change the legal landscape for companies, in particular private limited companies. The Act aims to ease the administrative burden on business and to make company law more flexible. Certain provisions of the Act come into force in Autumn 2007 necessitating changes to procedures and constitutions.

It is essential that you are aware of how the Act will affect you and in order to give you an overview of the principal changes and to help you get to grips with the key elements of this Act, we are holding a Free Seminar at our office in Headgate Court, Colchester, CO1 1NP on the following dates:-

Tuesday 18th September 2007: 8.00am – 9.00am

(pastries and coffee will be provided)

Thursday 20th September 2007: 5.30pm – 6.30pm

(canapés and wine will be provided)

Topics to be covered will include:

- New legal responsibilities for directors
- Changes in administration of companies/meetings and resolutions
- Share reductions/buybacks/re-organisations
- Changes to Articles of Association and other constitutional documents

Places are limited for this event, so if you wish to attend, please complete and return the form below no later than 12 September 2007.
